¶4. Visas: Visitors are reminded that Argentina requires visas in U.S. diplomatic and official passports for official travel. Persons traveling on official business and carrying diplomatic or official passports who arrive without a valid visa may be denied entry and sent back to point of origin. The Embassy is unable to secure entry of travelers who arrive without visas.

¶5. Airport tax: Official visitors, holding diplomatic or regular passports, are required to pay the airport tax. For international flights, the tax is us $18 per passenger (vat-exempt) or peso equivalent, payable in cash, with traveler's checks or credit cards.

¶6. Threat assessment:

¶A. Political violence/terrorism: liaison with host government police and security forces indicate there is little threat to U.S. citizens (official visitors, business visitors, tourists) from indigenous terrorist organizations in Argentina. There are no violent domestic groups currently active in this country that are specifically targeting U.S. interests. However, given the presence of members of and support for extremist international terrorist groups such as Hizbollah in the tri-border region of Argentina (Misiones province), visitors here cannot discount the possibility of terrorist activity, to include random acts of anti-American violence.

¶B. Crime: Petty street crime in the city of Buenos Aires and the immediate suburbs continues to be a problem for residents and visitors alike. Burglaries in the more fashionable suburbs have been a particular problem. Visitors to the city of Buenos Aires should be aware of problems with hotel security (i.e. thefts from room) and pickpockets or purse snatching on the streets and public transportation (buses and trains). Pickpockets often work in pairs and employ a variety of ruses to victimize the unsuspecting visitor.

In recent years, most crime affecting visitors has been non-violent; aggravated robberies, shootings, etc., while not completely unheard of in Buenos Aires were nonetheless uncommon. Recently, however, incidents of armed invasions of restaurants, shops and residences by criminal groups are being observed with greater frequency, and as a result, it is recommended that due caution be exercised when traveling about the city. However, in general, the crime level in Buenos Aires is less severe than large U.S. cities.

¶7. Accommodation exchange in pesos will be provided by control officer upon arrival.

¶8. Telephone Calls: Visitors should bring fund cites or credit card to cover the cost of official international and in-country long distance telephone calls. International calling cards are recommended.

¶9. Laptop Computers/Digital Cameras: Personally owned laptops/palm pilots may not/not be used in the Embassy. USG-owned laptops may only be used in controlled access areas (CAA) if the user certifies that the computer has been continuously under the personal control of a cleared American throughout transit. If this requirement is not met, the laptop can only be used outside of the CAA. USG-owned palm pilots are under the same restrictions as cellular phones and other electronic devices, and may not be utilized within the CAA. At the embassy, all USG issued or personal cellular phones must be left outside of the CAA. Use of cellular phones outside of the CAA is not restricted. It should be noted that if traveler is bringing a cellular phone into the country, argentine law requires the traveler to declare the phone, including its value, when filling out the customs and immigration declaration form.
